This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

Portugal & The Professor

windy, just as likely to be errant as not, political opinion, you can always turn to Prof. Arthur Schlesinger Jr., the Colonel Blimp of the eastern intelligentsia. Professor Schlesinger, whose prestige depends largely on his residual name attachment to the John F. Kennedy administration, shows up periodically on the Wall Street Journal's editorial page, where his essays alternate with those of other illustrious academics such as Prof. Irving Kristol (who should be aghast for being placed in the same league) and liberal economist Walter Heller.

In the early 1960s Schlesinger lent all his skills as a popular historian to the not difficult (given the temper of the media) task of mythologizing JFK's "Camelot." With Nixon in the White House, however, he turned around and wrote a best - seller against "The Imperial Presidency," warning against the overabundance of centralized power, reposing therein. He's that kind of a guy: first up, then down; next hot, then cold. It isn't that he cannot make up his mind; he makes it up in two directions at once.

Now Schlesinger seeks to chasten us with the understanding that whatever the White House, along with the Detense and State Departments, claims, it just might not be so. Well and good. Anyone standing outside Camelot knew that - where was Arthur Schlesinger? He shows us (or does he?) that Defense Secretary James Schlesinger (not related) and Vice President Nelson Rockefeller were inaccurate in their pre-takeover predictions of a bloodbath in South Vietnam-not that "Life in Saigon is. . .a bed of roses."

In this lecturing mood, Schlesinger hits President Ford, correctly, for writing off Portugal to the Communist some months ago: and he chuckles that Aleksandr Solzhenitsvn likewise analyzed things so erroneously as to predict, "Very shortly, Portugal will be considered a member of the Warsaw Pact."

"What nonsense it all was!" Schlesinger barks. "All these solemn forecasts left one thing out: The Portuguese people, who having lived as long as they could remember under one dictatorship, were in no mood to accept anoth-

If you're a connoisseur of deed the Portuguese government, at the time of President Ford's gloomy assessment, was totally in the hands of Communists; Ford, technically, was right. Moreover, things are by no means played out in Portugal as yet. Goncaives' replacement is acceptably left-wing to the Communist party.

Schlesinger's assumption that a people who have known nothing except dictatorship will opt instantly for democracy simply ignores the facts of history-an odd mistake for an historian, but not, apparently, for Schlesinger. History shows that as one authoritarian government topples, another-attuned to another party -slips into place. The growth of democracy is a delicate, gradual process, as Schlesinger of all people ought to

The myopic professor thanks his stars that the CIA was never sent to influence the outcome in Portugal. That, he imagines, would have been a colossal blunder. evidence that Portugal has managed to achieve a democratic government. And if the Socialist party, even owing to electoral might, is in the ascendancy, why is that better for Portugal, let alone for Western Europe? And why is it better that European socialists intervened than had, shudders, the CIA? Democratic or not, no country's economy has ever grown by adopting socialist controls. Cost Impact Reports?

The idea has been kicked don't know anyone else for around before. President Ford himself-along with his advisers—has talked about "inflation impact reports" modeled roughly after environmental impact reports. The reason is that most legislation is conceived and passed impervious to the tax-paying. consuming public. If some means existed whereby legislators took into account what they're doing to their constituents' pocketbooks, then perhaps fewer costly pieces of legislation would be enacted.

Now State Sen. George Deukmegian, R-Long Beach, has introduced a bill to require a "cost impact report" of all legislation Sacramento entertains. Deukmetlan would have the information compiled and provided by legislative analyst A. Alan Post: "I whom the legislature has as much respect."

On the surface, it sounds good. But we think the proposal has a serious flaw: the reports, which themselves would each eost thousands of tax dollars, will be subject to the same politics as affects everything else in the capitol. Cost analysis has always been available for legislators concerning proposed laws, but when politicians want a law passed they have shown singular capacity for ignoring costs. A report by Post might limit debate over cost (we doubt even that), but it can be ignored just as easily as all other analyses. Politicians love to announce that their programs are "invaluable," which is a clever word meaning: money is no

On the Liberty Bell are inscribed these words: "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof. . ." We do not know exactly what those who ordered this inscription on the Bell had in mind, but we know from history, from their own proclamations, that the great majority of those who founded this Nation were readers of, and believers in, the Bible. They knew from a study of these words from Leviticus, that on the fiftieth year, the year of the Jubilee, the Israelites and the Levites regained many of the freedoms that had been lost during the previous fifty years.

Our forefathers came to this land to be free. For the town and Plymouth, the people had been relatively free from persecutions and the tyranny of kings. But, as time progressed, and our marvelously workable free enterprise system brought prosperity to this land. King George saw the great possibility of taking from these hardy settlers some of their

In the past 50 years in our government we have erected a multitude of new offices and they have sent forth swarms of officers to eat out substance. us: "The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and government to gain ground." And gain ground it has. Increasingly in the past years this nation has moved toward the pagan principle of the all-powerful state, and the insignificant citizen, taking the place of the Christian concept that the single function and purpose of government is to secure and protect the inalienable God-given rights and sovereignty of each individual. We have been asking for it. We have turned over to government too many jobs that we should be doing for ourselves as volunteers without pay. We have forgotten that the rendering of useful service is the common duty of mankind.

How can we help make 1976 "Year of The Jubilee? We must teach every young perthem about the blessings of our free enterprise system. Freedom requires individual responsibility: individual integrity; individual effort; individual courage and individual religious faith. The individual's greatest fulfillment for happiness and usefulness will be found in living in harmony with God's Will and with one another.

Helsinki Terms

Informed persons are shocked to see the gross violations of the Helsinki agreement by the Soviet Union. The official Soviet newspaper Pravda asserted recently that the European Common Market countries would be violating the Helsinki agreement if they denied the pro-CommunIst military clique in Portugal economic and financial assistance. At the same time, Soviet Russia supports the Communist takeover in Portugal in spite of the overwhelmingly anti-Communist vote of the people in the last Portuguese

The Pravda editorial accused recently James Schlesinger, Secretary of Defense, of "returning to the cold war tinges." Circulated here by the Embassy of the Soviet Union, the Pravda editorial blamed Schlesinger for trying scare tactics to get a larger U.S. defense budget with "money siphoned from the purses of American taxpayers." This action of the Soviet Union is an outrageous interference in the internal affairs of the United States in order to weaken the defense budget of the United States. In accordance with the in-ries as they existed at the end nances. of World War II. It is obvious that millions of American citizens, including those of the German, Estonian, Latvian, Luthuanian, Hungarian, Rumanian, Czech, and other Eastern European descent, will never accept this interpretation of the Soviet Union. The Helsinki agreement is not an international treaty. In order to clarify the meaning of the Helsinki statement of policies and avert any misunderstanding in the future, concerned Americans should urge both houses of Congress to pass a resolution that the United States should not agree to the recognition of the Soviet Union's annexation of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania in any way and should not confirm any other changes in European boundaries since World War II.

INSIDE WASHINGTON Plain Talk On India May Save Taxpayers Boodle For Indira

By ROBERT S. ALLEN WASHINGTON - Sometimes it pays to talk undiplomatically!

President Ford's outspoken condemnation of India's dictatorship may save U.S. taxpayers $75 million.

That's what is earmarked for India in the $2.8 billion foreign aid authorization bill passed by the House with little public attention-and none at all about the big Indian handout.

There was literally nothing said about that $75 million giveaway during the House discussion of the multi-billion-dollar foreign aid mea-

As far as the public is concerned, this is the first disclosure of the existence of that provision. It is buried in the voluminous bill under the ambiguous heading of "technical assistance."

India's haughty Prime Minister Indira Gandhi is so incensed by the president's censure of her imperious seizure of dictatorial power that it's being hinted the $75 million may be declined.

Whether she actually goes through with that threat remains to be seen.

The very most question is why State Department bu-out in the legislation. This is the first economic aid proposed for India since 1971.

On the basis of India's bedraggled financial record and openly rancorous hostility toward the U.S., there is nothing to warrant resuming the dishing out of large-scale assistance.

Costly Courting

Several years ago, in an effort to woo Indian good will, the State Department arbitrarily wrote off $2.2 billion of a $3.2 billion long-standing Indian debt.

It had been incurred during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations for (P.L. 480) tural performance has been "sales" of huge quantities of grain and other food to India to avert widespread starva- shattered whatever illusions tion. Not only did the U.S. get no credit for that, but there was no let-up in the constant stream of self-righteous pontificating and supercilious carping by Mmes. Gandhi and higher Indian officials.

When the U.S. withdrew from Cambodia and South Vietnam, Foreign Minister Y.B. Chavan publicly chortled with glee.

But not long thereafter New Delhi was again secretly trying to wheedle more food from the U.S.

Again millions of Indians faced famine due to agricultural mismanagement and incompetence, extensive corruption in the Gandhi regime anl drought. So once more, help was urgently sought from the U.S.-despite all the public denunciations and dis-paragements.

As in the past, this "sale" was under P.L. 480 (food-forpeace program) and consisted of a 40-year credit at 2 per cent interest the first 10 years and 3 per cent thereafter—if the obligation is ever paid, which is highly doubtful. It cost the U.S. Treasury some 8 per cent to borrow money. Calling The Turn dent Ford's censure of her seizure of dictatorial power, diplomatic insiders doubt her ire will go so far as to turn down the $75 million "technical assistance" handout.

While that would be a big break for U.S. taxpayers, the lofty lady usually does not let her personal antipathies interfere with policies. She has never hesitated to get all she can from the U.S. regardless of what she thinks or says.

But if Sen. Harry Byrd, Ind.-Va., chairman of the International Finance Subcommittee, can help it, this time she may be taken at her carping word.

It is his determined intention to bar further giveaways to India on the irrefutably sound ground that the U.S. has already poured $10 billion into that country and there is "no reason why U.S. taxpayers should be called upon to pay for more aid."

India's dire economic, agricultural and financial difficulties, Byrd bluntly maintains. are wholly of her own mak-

As proof, he cited "gross mismanagement, widespread corruption and the investment of vast manpower and resources to develop nuclear reaucrats included this handweaponry. India's huge armed forces alone consume 25 per cent of the country's budget."

"India's economic stagnation and the likelihood of substantial defaults in repayment of its debts to this country," declares Byrd, "should cause both Congress and the Executive to revalue our aid programs in India. The plain facts are that India's economic performance has not achieved the continuous growth necessary for self-sustained development.

"Industrial output has remained virtually stagnant since the mid 1960s. Agriculeven worse, and recent reductions in farm output have food. Mrs. Gandhi herse The State Department's admitted that hoarding is prinicipal reason for hunger in India."

Wheels Within Wheels

Particularly singled out for denunciation by Sen. Byrd is a reputed plan for another P.L. 480 "sale" of 300,000 tons of wheat to India on bargainbasement credit terms.

A strongly suspected aspect of this backstage deal is that "India may use this food to repay the Soviet Union for 2 million tons of wheat it got from Moscow in 1974-rather than to alleviate dire hunger among India's masses."

This unannounced grain proposal may actually be only part of a far bigger scheme.

Says Sen. Byrd. "Administration officials have admitted this sale of 300,000 tons of wheat may be part of a total commitment of over one million tons of food for India." To the Virginia legislator, this is unconscionable.

"The plain fact is." he holds, "U.S. aid may have helped to perpetuate India's weaknesses. It may have contributed to the Indian government's reluctance to invest a much greater proportion of its resources in agriculture, fertilizer production and the development of a vast underground water system. The time has come for reassessment of the relationship be-

KERSHNER'S COMMENTARY The Wisdom Of The Founding Fathers — Lost?

By HOWARD E. KERSHNER As we approach the Bicentennial it behooves us to think once more of the wisdom, devotion and sacrifices our fathers made in order that we might enjoy freedom.

Laws multiply by the thousands of tons. They are turned out in great volume by the Congress, the 50 legislatures, and the city councils in thousands of our local communities. Their number is still further augmented by the vast number of rulings having the force of law, that are issued by commissions, boards and regulative agencies established by legislative authority.

Tons and tons of laws made little avail to the people that than 200 years ago, is so by issuing bureaucrats are steadily and increasingly inflicted upon our people to the point where many of them have far too little time to devote to the business they are operating and go down under the weight of volumes of regulations to which they cannot become accustomed before additional tomes modifying the previous ones are received.

Law is defined to be a rule of action, but how can that be a rule, which is little known, and less fixed?" - (James Madison, Federalist, No. 53).

Lancer Defense Bristles

Sunny Hills High's defensive platoon manned its battle stations and quarterback Tim Berberet got the Lancer "offense moving for three scoring drives Friday night to register a 17-12 win over Sonora High in nonleague football action at La Habra Stadium.

It took more than one quarter for the Sunny Hill offense to get untracked in the face of a strong Sonora defensive charge, but Berberet got the Lancers moving in the second period.

Taking over following a Sonora punt, Sunny Hills moved 83 yards with Mike McCullock's 25-yard field goal climaxing the march which was sparked by Kurt Walsh's 56-yard dash on a sweep play. Sonora stiffened two plays later to force the field goal.

Berberet got the Lancers moving again with seven minutes left before halftime, driving them 51 yards, covering 13 yards on a QB keeper to set up Kurt Walsh's two-yard TD plunge. McCulloch added the PAT with his toe for a 10-0

'Invincible'

INGLEWOOD - invincible Shadow, which climaxed a 'Cinderella' Hollywood Park campaign two years ago with a dramatic American Pacing Classic victory, will resume competition tonight after spending nearly a year on the sidelines.

Vehicle for his return to action will be the $10,000 Beverly Hills Pace, an invitational mile wor that will find him challenging four of the swiftest pacers in the west.

Invincible Shadow was drawn the rail and battling him, in post-position order, are Starred By Bret, Kay Wave, Armbro O'Brien and Baron Mave.

After suffering an injury at Hollypark last October, Invicible Shadow was sent to western Canada while on the mend. He indicated his fitness here a week ago, when trainer-driver Bobby Williams directed him through a qualifying mile in 2:02 flat. Invincible Shadow was a 1:58 victor at Hollypark during his 1973 season and, last summer at Brandywine, took his career mark of 1.56 1-5.
